

Jan Marthinus Botha, CEO of Core Vision EMEA (Europe, Middle East and Africa), is a South African born ranger-boy, husband, father, public speaker and passionate business professional.

Over the past decade, he has been assisting small companies and multinational organizations with business process optimization and digitization needs. Solving operational problems with technology in the Property Management Industry is what drives him.

This is Mr myBuildings, at your service!

Core Vision EMEA was established in 2016 as the operational spearhead for the EMEA region on behalf of Core Vision Pty Ltd (an Australian Company).

Based out of Johannesburg South Africa, Core Vision EMEA has successfully implemented system solutions for over 2 million square meters of NETT leased properties.

Since its inception Core Vision EMEA has expanded its reach internationally and won a number of best in class industry-related awards.